Honorable Michael L. Judy
General Counsel

Mr. Jim Paxton
Editor, The Paducah Sun
408 Kentucky Avenue
Paducah, Kentucky 42002

Dear Madam and Sirs:

Each of you have requested an opinion concerning the interpretation of KRS 117.235\(1\), as it applies to the right of news media to have access to the polling place for the purpose of observing the election process and to take photographs, or television film. This particular section of the general election laws became effective in 1974, and is not a part of the recently enacted election fraud legislation.

KRS 117.235\(1\) provides as follows:

“(1) No person other than the election officers and challengers, shall be permitted within the voting room while the vote is being polled, except for the purpose of voting or except by the authority of the election officers to keep order and enforce the law.”

It is our opinion that a strict and literal interpretation of KRS 117.235\(1\) prohibits all persons other than voters and election officials from being in the voting room during the election process. KRS 117.235\(5\) further provides:

“(5) The election sheriff, under the supervision of the precinct election judges, shall enforce the election laws and maintain law and order at the polls and within fifty (50) feet of any entrance to the building in which the voting machine is located if that entrance is unlocked and is used by the voters. Assistance may be requested of any law enforcement officer.”

The literal interpretation of KRS 117.235 subsections \(1\) and \(5\), quite simply, provides that no one shall enter the polling place, and that those persons not authorized by election officials shall be prohibited from doing so by the election sheriff.

Under this interpretation, Ms. Rushing was entirely correct in stating that members of the news media were prohibited from the polling place for the purpose of taking still pictures and/or television film.

While we think a literal interpretation of KRS 117.235\(1\) is facially correct, we at the same time recognize and believe that there are certain First Amendment rights guaranteed by the United States Constitution which must be given due consideration in the application of this statute. The United States Supreme Court has held that forms of expression may be limited if the limitation serves a sufficiently compelling interest and is sufficiently narrow. Brown v. Hartlege, 456 U.S. 45, 71 L.Ed.2d 732, 102 S.Ct. 1523 \(1982\). The Supreme Court has further held, in the case of Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1, 46 L.Ed.2d 659, 96 S.Ct. 612, \(1976\), 424 U.S. 1, at p. 25 that the interest of the government in fair and orderly elections is compelling and in such an instance legislative bodies may regulate narrowly. There must be struck a balance between the state's interest in the integrity of elections as against the First Amendment interest of the affected party, Brown v. Hartlege, supra, 456 U.S. 45, at p. 54.

*2 We do not believe that a literal interpretation of KRS 117.235\(1\) serves the interest of the state or of the public, and works as an abridgement of the right of the media to gather and disseminate news. While the state has a very real and sufficient interest in insuring the integrity of the electoral process, we do not find that the entrance of the news media into the polling place for the limited purpose of filming the voting process is such an intrusion as to disrupt peace, order and decorum at the polling place. This is not to say that the media should be allowed to conduct interviews with prospective voters, or those persons who have just voted, or to otherwise engage in such activities that would be disruptive to the normal, orderly, voting process. It is essential that voters exercise their franchise without distraction, interruption or harassment. Clean-Up 84 v. Heinrich, 759 F2d. 1511, 1514 \(11th Cir.1985\).

In conclusion, we quite simply find that a literal interpretation of KRS 117.235\(1\) thwarts certain basic First Amendment rights of the media to gather and disseminate news. We emphasize, however, that this opinion deals only with the question of the right of the media to enter upon the polling place for the very limited purpose of filming or observing the electoral process for a limited time. We emphasize also that the right of bonafide members of the media to have access to the polling place must be counterbalanced by the voters' right to exercise their franchise without distraction, interruption or harassment.

Ms. Rushing has further requested an opinion as to the proper procedure to be followed pursuant to KRS 117.275\(6\). The applicable provision of 117.275(6) is as follows: ...“The county board of elections shall authorize representatives of the news media to observe the taking of the tally of votes from the voting machine in each precinct in each primary, regular or special election.” This simply means that the county board of elections shall authorize such representatives of the news media as it deems advisable to observe the vote counting in each precinct. This implies an affirmative duty on each county board of elections to authorize, by appropriate action, duly noted in the board's minutes of those representatives of the media who have been authorized to observe the vote counting in the various precincts.

We trust this opinion is responsive to your request.

Sincerely,
Frederic J. Cowan

MEMORANDUM

TO: LAW ENFORCEMENT PERSONNEL
COMMONWEALTH'S AND COUNTY ATTORNEYS
COUNTY CLERKS

FROM: JACK CONWAY h
KENTUCKY ATTORNEY GENERAL

DATE: October 21, 2008

SUBJECT: Voter T-Shirts, Buttons and Other Permissible Personal Attire

The Office of the Attorney General has received inquiries regarding whether the wearing of a political or campaign t-shirt, button or other similar personal attire, by a voter in the polling place on Election Day, will constitute criminal "electioneering," as defined by KRS 117.235. The issue has been of great public concern and interest, as evidenced by an article in the Louisville Courier-Journal on October 17, 2008 and recent National Public Radio coverage. While the Office of the Attorney General does not wish to dictate to local law enforcement and prosecutorial officials those matters which are uniquely the concern of local officials, it is felt that this clarification would be of assistance to all concerned.

In short, it is the conclusion of the Attorney General's Office that its previous opinion in OAG 92-73 answers this question:

The first amendment prohibits enforcement of the [electioneering] statute to prohibit voters from wearing items such as buttons or shirts that solicit a vote for or against a candidate or issue.

This answer is consistent with the recent written directive from the State Board of Elections. (SBE Memo 08-69, 9/24/08).

There are several practical considerations ancillary to this conclusion:

- 1) No person can be prevented from voting merely for wearing a campaign t-shirt, button or other similar personal attire.
- 2) Any person who unlawfully prevents or attempts to prevent a voter from casting a ballot can be charged with a Class D felony. KRS 119.155.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F/D

Memo to Law Enforcement Personnel, Commonwealth's and County Attorneys, County Clerks

- 3) Ordinarily, precinct election officers are permitted the authority to, upon the observation of an act of "electioneering," first, warn the voter engaged to cease; and second, if the voter does not cease, report the action to law enforcement, and "maintain law and order." KRS 117.235. Given that the conduct described above is protected First Amendment expression, a poll worker would not have grounds to take these steps against a voter solely for the act of wearing a campaign t-shirt, button or other similar personal attire.
- 4) Ordinarily, a peace officer may perform an arrest for a misdemeanor committed in his presence. Because the mere act of wearing a particular t-shirt or button at the polling place cannot be enforced as criminal electioneering, then no peace officer can arrest for this action alone.
- 5) The laying of misdemeanor charges against an individual can occur, of course, by a charge other than arrest, pursuant to RCr 2, upon the sworn complaint of any individual (often referred to as "swearing a warrant"). Given the above conclusion, it would be improper for a voter to be so charged solely for wearing a campaign t-shirt, button or other such personal attire at the election polling place.
- 6) The precinct sheriff has the duty, under law, to note all election law violations in the precinct sheriff's post-election report. KRS 117.355. Given that the wearing of a campaign t-shirt, button or other similar personal attire, alone, does not constitute a violation of election laws, any act of intervening with the voter for this purpose or of recording the voter's identity solely for wearing the attire, would also appear to be improper.

The Attorney General, as chief law officer of the Commonwealth, is given the authority and duty, under law, to issue to "all state officers, departments, commissions and agencies" his written opinion "touching any of their official duties." KRS 15.020. In April, 1992, the Attorney General was asked by the Fayette County Clerk to issue an opinion regarding two questions related to criminal electioneering: (1) whether the wearing of a campaign button or t-shirt by a precinct election officer at the voting place was punishable as criminal electioneering; and (2) whether the same conduct by a voter constituted criminal electioneering.

The Opinion issued as OAG 92-73 analyzed this matter, and decided that such action was enforceable against precinct election officers, but not against voters. The Opinion has not been overruled, withdrawn or revised. The opinion appears to have been relied upon by state agencies like the State Board of Elections (see SBE Memo 08-69, 9/24/08) as well as members of the public via media coverage.

The number for the Attorney General's Election Fraud Hotline is 1-800-328-VOTE (800-328-8683). The hotline is available throughout the year during normal business hours. On November 4, 2008, calls will be received from 6a.m. EDT until 7p.m. EDT.
